

Other Theories About Jeff Dahmer

Do any of them make sense, given what we've uncovered?

Anyone who has followed this case closely has run across various theories about Dahmer. One of those theories is the "programmed to kill"/MK-Ultra theory. The proponents of this theory suggest that Jeff Dahmer was a psychological slave who was "programmed to kill" by the CIA's MK-Ultra program. Note that this theory suggests that these alleged victims actually died, that Jeff Dahmer murdered them. This theory possibly be true because we've found the following:

- "Eddie" Smith's real name was Ernest Richard Smith, and he died in 1999.
- Richard Guerrero died in 1960, and they used an old photo of his brother, Reynaldo Guerrero, for the "victim". Reynaldo, the guy in the "victim" photo is still alive.
- "Curtis" Straughter has been arrested multiple times, and there are mugshots of him online starting in 1999. He's still alive.
- The only James Edward Doxtator we found who was born in Wisconsin was in 1964 and is still alive. He's related to Debra Vega, the mother of the alleged "victim", but she is not his mother.
- There's nobody named "Konerak Sinthasomphone" in any official database, and his alleged parents never filed any Social Security claims for anyone by that name or for anyone named Somsack. They did file claims for their real children, though, whose names were not "Konerak" and Somsack. The "Konerak" photo also looks exactly like Somsack Sinthasomphone. The hair, the smile, the teeth are all the same.

Theories like “programmed to kill” throw people off the scent and get them look the wrong place for the truth. You spin your wheels chasing nonsense and go nowhere. None of the people promoting the “programmed to kill” theory - or any other biz theory - ever filed even one request for information. If they had, they would have uncovered the truth.

The truth about what happened to Jeff Dahmer is much more mundane: Corrupt and abuse of power.

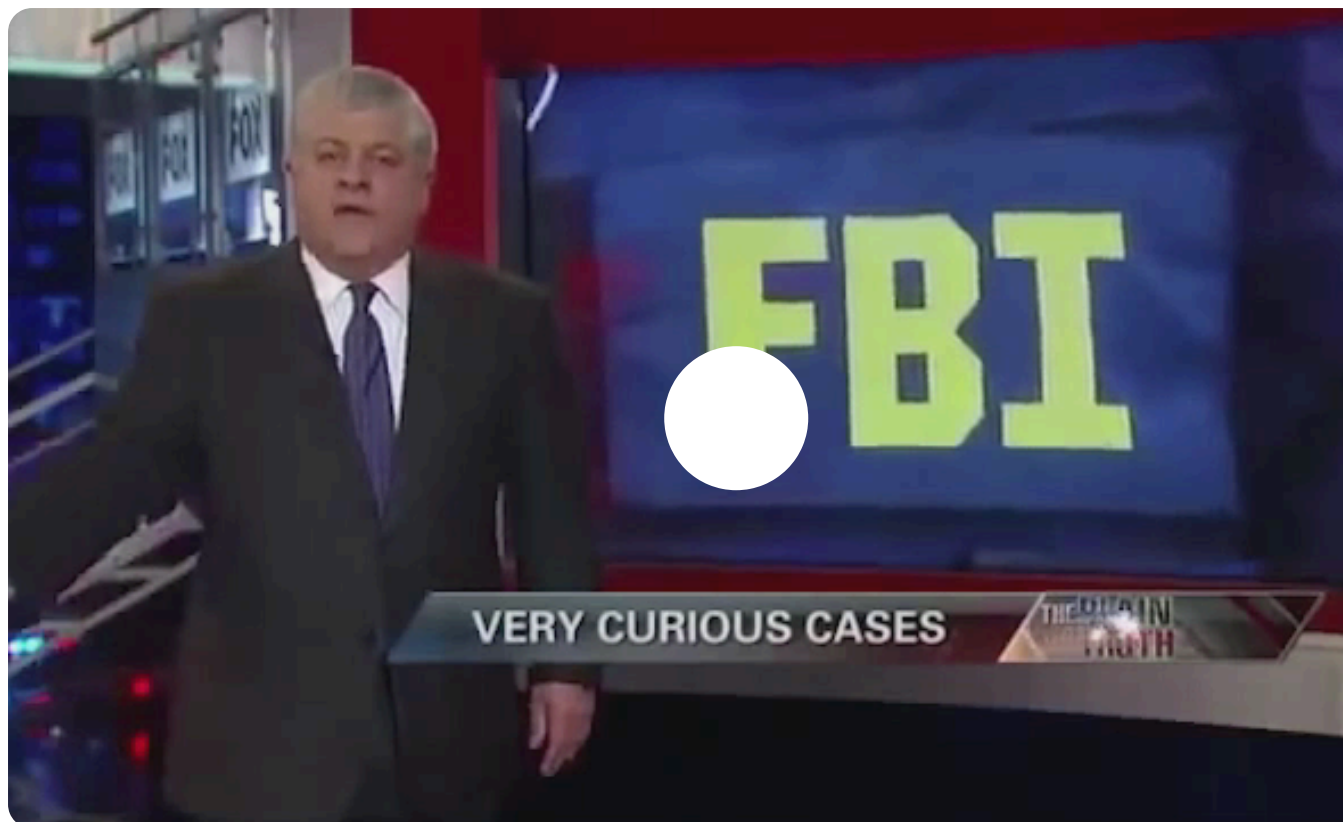

If you search online, you'll find plenty of information on how the FBI uses people agree to help entrap others in exchange for leniency in their sentences. This is well known and happened a lot when the FBI was targeting Muslims. They'd find some loser with mental issues and then have their informant seduce the person into planning an act of terrorism. The FBI then swooped in to "foil the plot" they themselves created. They had us believing plots by Muslims were everywhere when the FBI was the one creating the plots.

Here's one article about this from a left-wing perspective (Mother Jones):

The Informants: The FBI has built a massive network of spies to prevent another domestic attack. But are they busting terrorist plots—or leading them?

Here's the same basic information from Fox News (Judge Andrew Napolitano in

The third parties were typically persons who had been convicted of crimes and who, in return for leniency at their own sentencing, were willing to work with the same feds who prosecuted them to help them entrap whomever else those feds were pursuing...

We speculate that Jeff and Lionel Dahmer - and probably Shari as well - were facing lengthy prison sentence for covering up the accidental death of Steven Hicks. (Jeff's background check shows only one conviction, and it's in Ohio, for the death of Steven Hicks in 1978. His record in Wisconsin is clean.)

Some government agency probably made them the kind of deal mentioned above. Jeff stars in this "serial killer" show, we'll go easy on him (i.e., a "prison murder"/jailbreak), and Lionel and Shari Dahmer won't spend a day in prison.

It's very possible that had Jeff Dahmer not agreed to star in the "serial killer" show, both Lionel and Shari Dahmer would have spent the rest of their lives in prison. You can see from this letter Jeff sent to his father and Shari in 1992 that he was protecting them.

Jeff Dahmer, ever the dutiful son, probably took the fall so his father wouldn't go to prison.

The "victims" involved: Straughter, Guerrero, Smith, Doxtator, etc., were also probably offered a similar deal. We know that a class E felony charge was dropped against

Ernest Richard Smith 12 days before Jeff Dahmer's "trial" started. The rest of the have criminal records.

This explains why we've found "victims" alive after the trial and a host of other peculiarities, including no signed guilty pleas, another man's Social Security number on the confession, etc. Read the detailed analysis of the trial to see how they pull this off.

We leave you with three photos of a man who appeared to be following Ernest Richard Smith (i.e., "victim" "Eddie" Smith) and Theresa Smith around in the courthouse during Jeff Dahmer's "trial". He was seated between them inside the courtroom.

Who was he?

Unknown man inside the courthouse during Jeff Dahmer's "trial".

I definitely think you are on to something re Hicks' accidental death being hidden so that Jeff as cover for the perverted priests. But what I don't get is why the whole serial killer story, why victims and not just one? Why create this whole complex convoluted serial killer story and not one gruesome murder? Why risk having all these people in on it? What else was gained by cr narrative? Why the the skull drilling? Why the keeping of and preserving body parts? All of th details create so many loose ends which you have shown are quite easy to unravel. Why were slack at this psyop?
