In April of 1993, Jeff Dahmer appeared on Inside Edition and was interviewed by Nancy Glass. You can watch the interview here.

Carl Crew's film, The Secret Life: Jeffrey Dahmer was filmed 7-9 months before Jeff Dahmer's interview with Nancy Glass. In a previous post, we saw how Jeff Dahmer repeated the following line - word for word - from the movie :

"The compulsive obsession with doing what I was doing overpowered any feeling of revulsion."

Here's Jeff Dahmer repeating yet another line - word for word - from Carl Crew's horror comedy, The Secret Life: Jeffrey Dahmer. The line he's repeating this time is:

"I was dead set on going with this compulsion. It was the only thing that gave me any satisfaction."

Jeff Dahmer wasn't recalling memories. He was ACTING. Have a look:

This, in addition to all the other compelling findings, proves it was all a show, with complicit mainstream media supporting it. And a great distraction & diversion from the escalating issues happening at the Archdiocese of Milwaukee at the time. Interesting how many of the main play were also connected to the Archdiocese.
