

Was Jeff Dahmer Really Killed In Prison? We Don't Think So.

Since the rest of the story is fake, there's no reason to believe the prison murder story

You might be wondering...

If Jeff Dahmer was innocent, what happened to him? Was he killed in prison, as been told?

We don't think Jeff Dahmer was killed in prison. We think that part of the story is fake. In fact, we think that's how they got Jeff out of prison. In other words, the "murder" was actually a jailbreak.

Note that both Bob Mozenter, Jeff's attorney in Ohio, and Gerald Boyle were promoting the idea that Jeff wouldn't last two years in prison. Here's attorney Bob Mozenter claiming he "predicted" Jeff Dahmer would be killed in prison within 1 year:

He also recalls predicting Dahmer's eventual murder at the hands of a fellow inmate.

"Well, I'll tell you a secret," he said. "I told Jeffrey's father after the sentencing [in Akron] that predicted he would not live two years in prison, that they would kill him in prison. And I think it was 15 months later, he got killed."

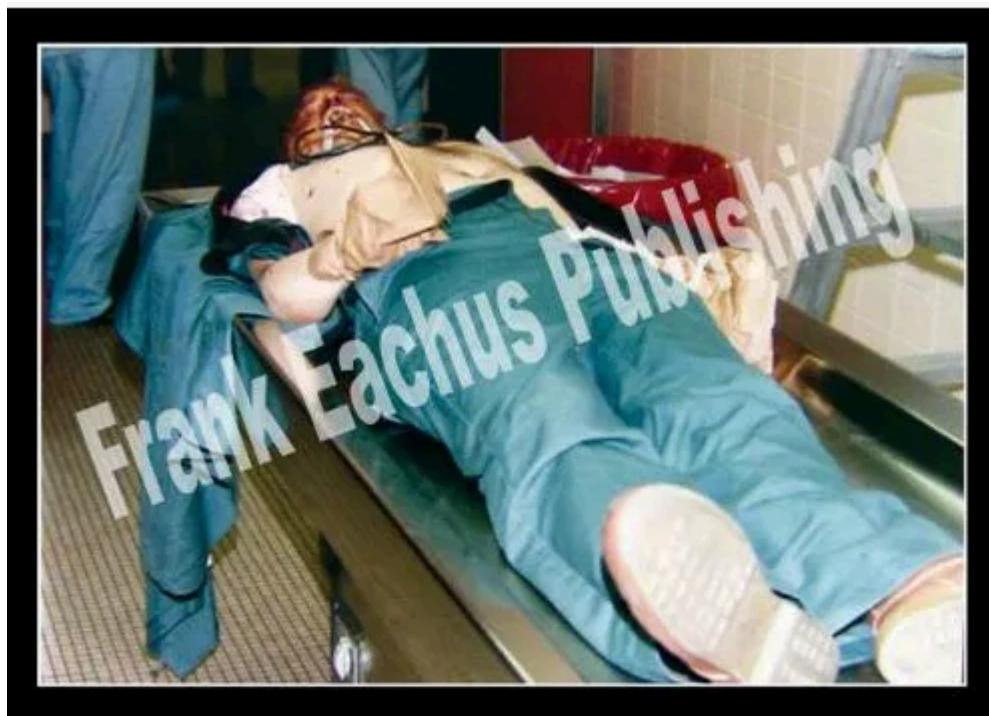

Jeff Dahmer's attorney, Bob Mozenter, claims he predicted the prison murder.

Attorney Gerald Boyle also claimed that he "predicted" Jeff would be murdered within a couple of years:

"Dahmer had a death wish, and I know that he didn't have the gumption to do it himself, so I had predicted that the day would come when he would be killed in prison," said Gerald Boyle, Dahmer's lawyer at trial.

Gerald Boyle claims he predicted that Jeff Dahmer would be killed in prison.

Some people say that while they think the story is fake (they're correct!), Jeff must have been killed in prison because of "those photos of the guy on the gurney."

An actual photograph of Jeffrey Dahmer after he was beaten to death by inmate Christopher Scarver.

There were three pictures (Polaroids) taken of Jeffrey Dahmer after he was beaten to death in prison by a fellow inmate. The pictures were used by the prosecutor of Dahmer's killer. Two sets of these pictures exist, and Frank Eachus Publishing will be the first to publish these pictures since they were taken in 1994. Here's the least graphic of the three pictures.

Alleged photo of Jeff Dahmer after he was beaten to death

So, what do we know about these photos?

Well, for starters, notice that the photos came from a guy named Frank Eachus, who deals in magic tricks and trading cards. Eachus claims he got them from the guy prosecuted Christopher Scarver. Keep reading to find out why that's not possible

Also included in the trading card set Human Monsters: Infamous Killers a never before published picture of Jeffery Dahmer - dead - on a slab just after being beaten to death by a fellow inmate. This picture was originally used by the prosecutor of Dahmer's killer, and was obtained by a private collector.

The guy on the gurney is wearing the type of shoes worn in a hospital environment. Compare with Jeff Dahmer's shoes...Red Wing boots with a distinctive heel (Inside Edition interview) and weight-lifting shoes (Stone Philips interview).

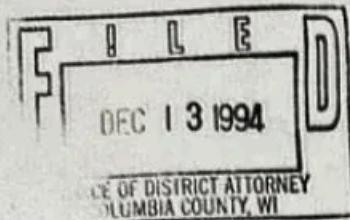

Compare Jeff Dahmer's shoes to the shoes of the man on the gurney.

Additionally, the guy on the gurney is wearing the same color clothing as the people standing in the background. They all appear to be medical staff. Oh, and do you see any blood on "Jeff Dahmer"? Supposedly, he was savagely beaten. Why is there no blood on his pants or shoes?

However, the real proof the man on the gurney isn't Jeff Dahmer is Wisconsin Statute 165.81, which states that all key evidence has to be kept indefinitely until the incarcerated has served their term. In this case, that would be Christopher Scarver. This was covered in the legal process post.

In other words, if this "man on the gurney" photo is evidence, it's not supposed to be out there circulating, and this should warrant an investigation. However, nothing is being done because the entire case, including the prison murder story, is fake. This isn't a photo of Jeff Dahmer.

Now, let's take a close look at the alleged autopsy documentation. What do you think?

Alleged Jeff Dahmer autopsy report

Here's an enlarged view:

Alleged Jeff Dahmer autopsy report

Note that someone has used correction tape on the date/time of death and has also changed the date/time of the autopsy.

Also note that the alleged autopsy report says, "He was murdered by blunt force assault." This is not something a medical examiner would write on an autopsy report because it isn't the job of the medical examiner to determine if the person was murdered.

Here's a real autopsy report for comparison:

AUTOPSY REPORT

-3-

JOY LYNN RISKER 04-1737

IDENTIFICATION: The body is identified by a blue Medical Examiner's tag around the right ankle bearing the decedent's name and case number. Red tag #0000464.

ASSISTANT: Forensic Autopsy Assistant: Jessica Boyer.

CLOTHING AND PERSONAL EFFECTS: The following clothing items and personal effects are present on the body at the time of autopsy:
1. None.

MEDICAL INTERVENTION:
1. None.

EXTERNAL DESCRIPTION

The partially skeletonized body is of a well-developed, well-nourished, adult Black female appearing 68 inches tall, 31 pounds whose appearance is consistent with the reported age of 25 years. Her reported weight in life was 140 pounds. Lividity is posterior and fixed. Rigor is absent, and the temperature is cool. Desiccated skin and soft tissue is present on the legs, thighs and arms. The skull, ribs, hyoid bone and laryngeal tissues are disarticulated and separately packaged.

The head is normocephalic. The scalp is covered with brown curly hair in a normal distribution with a "dread locks" style, with an average length of 10 inches. The face is asymmetrical due to displaced mid facial fractures. The eyes are absent. The nose and maxillae are fractured. The residual dentition is natural; most of the dentition has been mechanically removed postmortem.

Examination of the axial skeleton reveals an entire skeleton with the exception of the left clavicle bone and pubic symphysis. The vertebral column based on development and ossifications is consistent with an individual in their 20-30's. The decedent is reportedly 25 years old.

Examination of the appendicular skeleton indicates the upper and lower extremities are symmetric, normally developed and show a moderate degree of muscle development. The hands show bilateral transected proximal phalanges. This appears to be a postmortem artifact. The desiccated feet show chipped dark nail polish.

EVIDENCE OF INJURY

There are sharp and blunt force injuries to the face, neck upper torso and distal upper extremities. The sharp force injuries consist of incised/stab wounds and saw cuts. The blunt force injuries are displaced fractures of midface structures.

Finally, there's this curious photo found on some web pages about Jesse Michael Anderson, the man who was supposedly also beaten to death that day by Christo Scarver. While we can't prove it....it appears to be an older, fatter Jesse Michael Anderson. After searching, we found that the "Are You A Wizard" meme first started circulating around 2010. Jesse Michael Anderson would have been in his early 50

Is the man on the right Jesse Michael Anderson?

This wouldn't be complete without showing you a sample of the silly tabloid stories about Jeff Dahmer's "death":

I don't know what's up with Substack, but I can no longer like comments as of a few days ago. Apparently, others are also having problems with this.

That picture of Jesse also appears online in articles about Jesse Anderson. Perhaps it was leaked. As for the guy on the gurney, there's a mole on his chest that Jeff doesn't have, and look up & you can see he has different front teeth to Jeff. He was quite a heavy guy too, yet the tabloids' picture of 'Jeff' which showed him to be much skinnier, like half the size. And claimed there were 'human remains' found in his stomach after the 'autopsy'. Typical tabloid nonsense. There were very good observations made on the subreddit too, about that picture from Frank Eachus. The man is dressed for a start, and the scene does not look like a morgue, with the ladder and bir. We can categorically conclude it is not Jeff, just with the breach of statute alone (Frank did not break the law when he made that claim about the picture being from the prosecutor) and the 'auto' is as poor as the 'confession'. It doesn't even show Jeff's full name or age. It could be about a man named 'Jeffrey Dahmer'.

Another excellent & compelling article.
